Our facilities

The Central Queensland Cancer Support Centre incorporates several indoor and outdoor communal areas, which you are free to use at your pleasure. The combination of private and communal areas allows you to mingle with other guests or rest quietly, depending on how you feel.

Outside, you can enjoy our shaded garden. Inside, our communal lounge includes books, a TV and plenty of DVDs for you to watch. There's also a communal kitchen for you to cook more complex meals, should you need more room than is available in your room's kitchenette. You can make use of the onsite laundry, which includes washers, dryers and an outdoor clothesline.

All linen is provided and changed on a weekly basis. An initial supply of kitchen essentials is provided upon check in (tea, coffee, hand soap etc.), however, guests are expected to purchase their own once these run out.
