

Turban Wrap

Materials needed:

- Fabric 60cm (145cm or wider) stretch fabric – polyester or a cotton and polyester blend (cooler in summer)
- Matching thread
- Seam allowance – 1.5cm

Preparation:

- Wash and dry your fabric • Iron if needed

Cutting:

- Cut out pattern joining line A to line A
- Print off two copies of the pattern pieces. Stick the pattern pieces together at marked places. Make one of the pattern pieces 6mm longer (B) – either by adding 6mm onto the pattern piece, or by placing the pattern piece 6mm from the edge of the fabric and leaving the 6mm extra fabric
- Mark 1 pattern A and the other B

The finished pattern should look like this:

- Cut out turbans as shown in the diagram below. By 'top and tailing' the pattern you will use less fabric

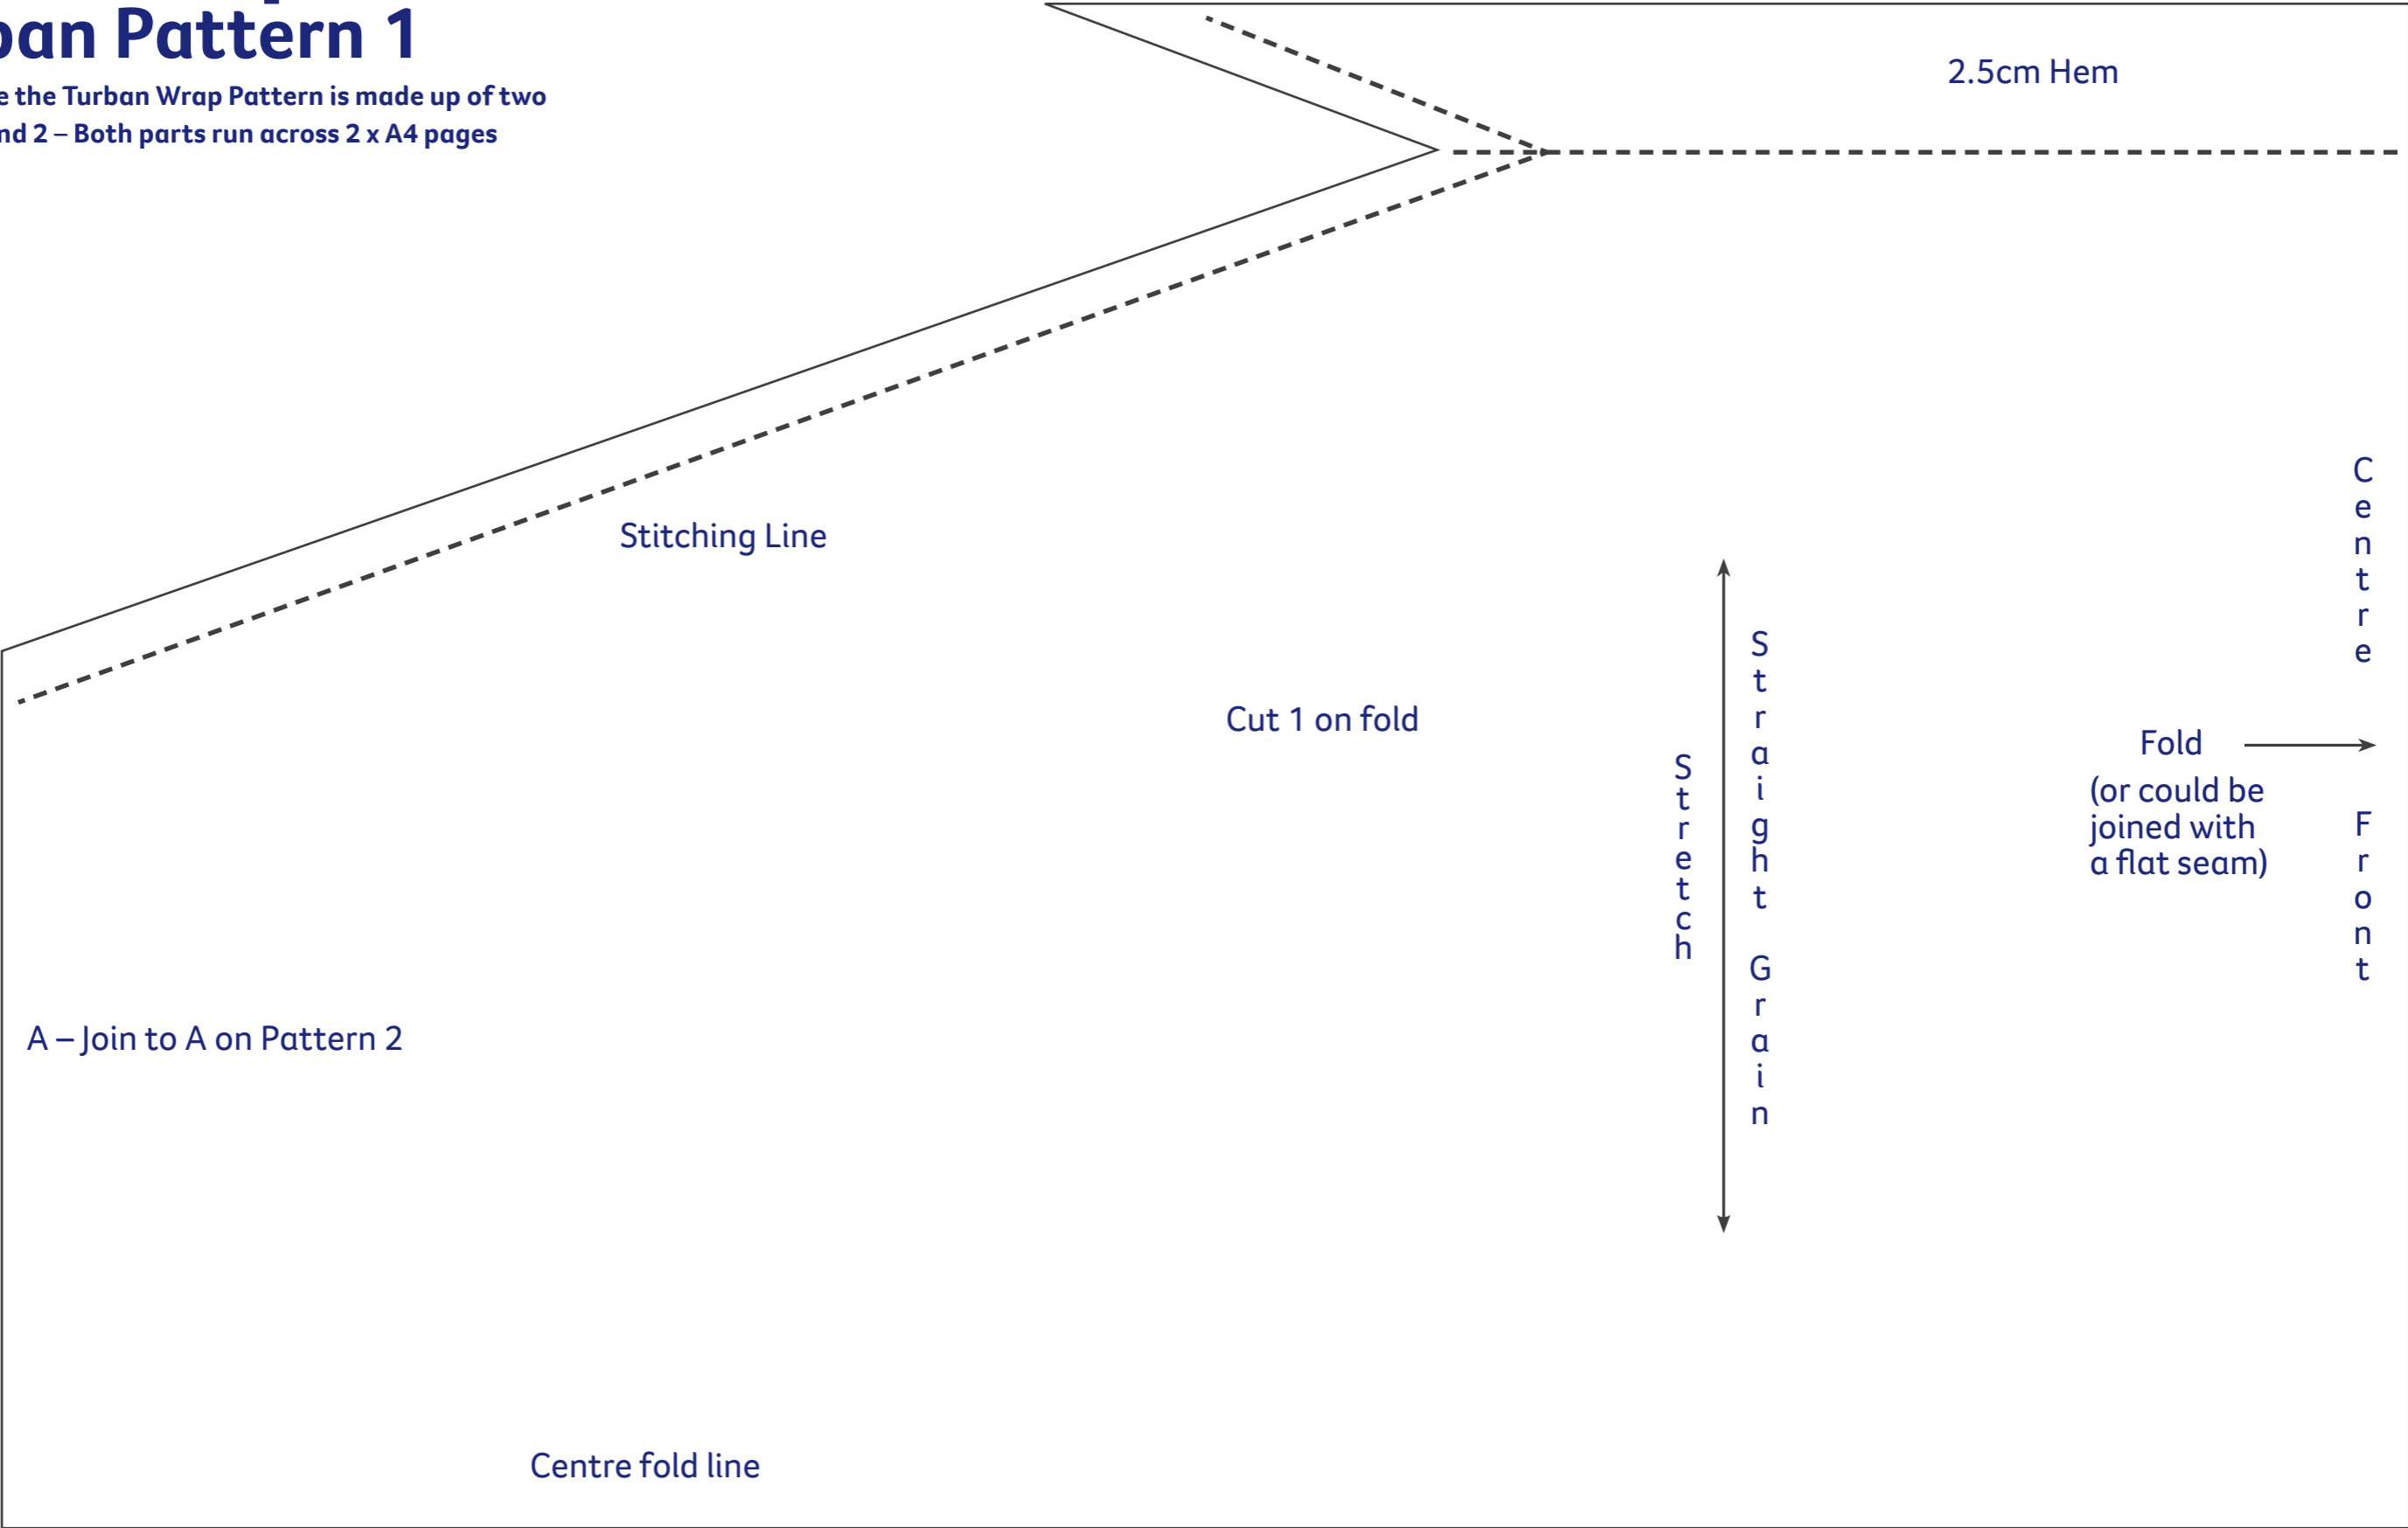

- Turban pattern piece B – sew the 2 pattern B pieces right sides together at the centre seam. Open the seam flat. Stitch the seam 3mm either side of the centre seam stitching line using the machine foot as a guide for width. Trim excess fabric close to the stitching line
- Turbans pieces A & B – fold in halves lengthwise right sides facing, as shown in the diagram below. Join seams on both sides of the head opening with a 6mm seam. Clip into the corner of the seams as shown. Trim the corner off on the turban ends

- Turn turban to right side out. Push the points out with a pin, knitting needle or chopstick. Turn and pin the hem allowance along the head opening. Sew the hem with either a straight or fancy stitch, using the line on your sewing machine as a guide. Trim excess hem fabric close to the stitching and press
