

Women's Connect

Connection. Support.
Shared Understanding.

Have you, or someone you love, been affected by cancer?

Connect with others who understand, share experiences, and explore practical support in a safe and supportive environment. Talking to someone who has been through cancer, or who is caring for someone experiencing cancer, can be enormously valuable and reassuring. The program is free, available online or in person, facilitated by trained health professionals, and welcomes people from all backgrounds.
